ANSWER

Susan Polgar responds as follows to the First Amended Complaint filed against her by the United States of America Chess Federation, Inc. ("USCF") and Randall D. Hough ("Hough"), (collectively, "Plaintiffs") as follows:

1. Answering paragraph 1, Ms. Polgar admits that the USCF is a non-profit corporation. Except as expressly admitted, Ms. Polgar lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations in paragraph 1 and on that basis generally and specifically denies the allegations.

2. Answering paragraph 2, Ms. Polgar admits that she is a board member of the USCF. Ms. Polgar also admits that Hough is a board member of the USCF. Ms. Polgar denies that she used a stolen password to surreptitiously access the email account of Hough over 100 times during the course of eight months, and denies that she viewed, misappropriated and distributed to third parties any email content unlawfully. Except as expressly admitted and denied above, Ms. Polgar lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations in paragraph 2 and on that basis generally and specifically denies the allegations.

3. Answering paragraph 3, Ms. Polgar denies that she engaged in misconduct. Ms. Polgar admits that Defendants purport to bring this action under the Electronic Communications Privacy Act, the Computer Fraud and Abuse Act, the California Computer Crimes Act, and common law conversion. Except as expressly admitted, Ms. Polgar lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations in paragraph 3 and on that basis generally and specifically denies the allegations.

4. Answering paragraph 4, Ms. Polgar admits that the USCF is an Illinois not-for-profit corporation in good standing with its principal place of business in Crossville, Tennessee. Ms. Polgar also admits the USCF is governed by a seven-person executive board ("Executive Board").

2 5. Answering paragraph 5, Ms. Polgar admits that she resides in Lubbock, Texas.
3 Except as expressly admitted, Ms. Polgar lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a
4 belief as to the truth of the allegations in paragraph 5 and on that basis generally and specifically 5 denies the allegations.

6 6. Answering paragraph 6, Ms. Polgar lacks knowledge or information sufficient to
7 form a belief as to the truth of the allegations in paragraph 6 and on that basis generally and
8 specifically denies the allegations.

9 7. Answering paragraph 7, Ms. Polgar lacks knowledge or information sufficient to 10 form a belief as to the truth of the allegations that "Defendant Alexander has publicly admitted
11 that he is an agent for Defendant Polgar," or that Mr. Alexander "stat[ed] that Polgar 'hired 12 him'". Except as above denied for lack of knowledge and information, Ms. Polgar generally and 13 expressly denies the allegations of paragraph 7.

14 8. Answering paragraph 8, Ms. Polgar lacks knowledge or information sufficient to 15 form a belief as to the truth of the allegations in paragraph 8 and on that basis generally and 16 specifically denies the allegations of paragraph 8.

17 9. Answering paragraph 9, Ms. Polgar lacks knowledge or information sufficient to 18 form a belief as to the truth of the allegations in paragraph 9 and on that basis generally and 19 specifically denies the allegations of paragraph 9.

20 10. Answering paragraph 10, Ms. Polgar lacks knowledge or information sufficient to
21 form a belief as to the truth of the allegations in paragraph 10 and on that basis generally and 22 specifically denies the allegations of paragraph 10.

23 11. Answering paragraph 11, Ms. Polgar lacks knowledge or information sufficient to
24 form a belief as to the truth of the allegations in paragraph 11 and on that basis generally and 25 specifically denies the allegations of paragraph 11.

1 12. Answering paragraph 12, Ms. Polgar, denies that the San Francisco Superior
2 Court has jurisdiction over this matter, which has been removed to the United States District
3 Court for the Northern District of California.

4 13. Answering paragraph 13, Ms. Polgar denies Plaintiffs' claim that she engaged in 5 the "unlawful conduct" alleged by Plaintiffs, that she unlawfully accessed, viewed, and copied
6 data on an email serve owned by Yahoo!, Inc., that she unlawfully distributed stolen data on a
7 Internet blog website, that she attempted to "'cover [her] digital tracks' through the use of an 8 Internet 'anonymizing' service located in California. Ms. Polgar also denies that she engaged in 9 any misconduct in California and denies Plaintiffs' claim that the San Francisco Superior Court
10 had jurisdiction based upon any of the above-listed allegations contained in paragraph 13.
11 Except as expressly denied above, Ms. Polgar lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form 12 a belief as to the truth of the allegations in paragraph 13 and on that basis generally and 13 specifically denies the allegations.

14 14. Answering paragraph 14, Ms. Polgar admits that none of the Plaintiffs reside in 15 California. Except as expressly admitted, Ms. Polgar lacks knowledge or information sufficient 16 to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations in paragraph 14 and on that basis generally and 17 specifically denies the allegations. Ms. Polgar also denies that venue is proper in California,
18 because this matter arises out of facts already being litigated in the Northern District of Texas,
19 Case No. 5:08-CV-169-C and because Plaintiffs' claims largely implicate or duplicate
20 allegations raised in the counterclaim raised by one of the defendants in that action. This Court
21 therefore may transfer this matter to the Northern District of Texas under 28 U.S.C. Section
22 1406(a) and 28 U.S.C. Section 1404(a).

23 15. Answering paragraph 15, Ms. Polgar admits the allegations of paragraph 15.

24 16. Answering paragraph 16, Ms. Polgar admits the allegations of paragraph 16.

25 17. Answering paragraph 17, Ms. Polgar admits that false allegations of misconduct
26 were raised against her in September 2007. Except as expressly admitted, Ms. Polgar lacks
27
28

1 knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the truth of the allegations in 2 paragraph 17 and on that basis generally and specifically denies the allegations.

3 18. Answering paragraph 18, Ms. Polgar lacks knowledge or information sufficient to
4 form a belief as to the truth of the allegations in paragraph 18 and on that basis generally and
5 specifically denies the allegations.

6 19. Answering paragraph 19, Ms. Polgar lacks knowledge or information sufficient to
7 form a belief as to the truth of the allegations in paragraph 19 and on that basis generally and
8 specifically denies the allegations.

9 20. Answering paragraph 20, Ms. Polgar lacks knowledge or information sufficient to
10 form a belief as to the truth of the allegations in paragraph 20 and on that basis generally and
11 specifically denies the allegations.

12 21. Answering paragraph 21, Ms. Polgar lacks knowledge or information sufficient to 13 form a belief as to the truth of the allegations in paragraph 18 and on that basis generally and
14 specifically denies the allegations.

15 22. Answering paragraph 22, Ms. Polgar admits that at some point in time she was 16 aware that USCF purported to have retained Kronenberger as counsel. Except as expressly 17 admitted above, Ms. Polgar lacks knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief as to the 18 truth of the allegations in paragraph 22 and on that basis generally and specifically denies the 19 allegations.

20 23. Answering paragraph 23, Ms. Polgar generally and specifically denies the 21 allegations thereof. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing denial, Ms. Polgar denies 22 that she or her husband unlawfully accessed Hough's email. Ms. Polgar also denies that she or 23 her husband viewed or copied any confidential emails between Kronenberger and the Litigation
24 Committee. Ms. Polgar also denies that any effective Litigation Committee was ever established 25 by the USCF under the governing rules of the USCF's by-laws. Ms. Polgar also denies that she 26 or her husband distributed "[those] confidential communications" to third parties.

Bylaws, Delegate Actions, at 27(3)(c)-(e)

CONDUCT OF COUNTER-DEFENDANTS

In October 2007, the USCF retained Karl Kronenberger to investigate Sloan's allegations. Kronenberger then urges, and counter-defendants decide, without participation by Ms. Polgar or Mr. Truong, to form a legal subcommittee to investigate the allegations

1. In October 2007, the USCF Executive Board hired Karl Kronenberger for purposes of investigating the Sloan allegations.

2. On information and belief Ms. Polgar alleges that Kronenberger subsequently urged the USCF to create a "Legal Subcommittee" for the purposes of investigating the Sloan allegations.

3. At a November 4, 2007 Executive Board Meeting, counter-defendants authorized Kronenberger to create a legal subcommittee for purposes of investigating the Sloan allegations. However, on information and belief, Ms. Polgar alleges that the decision was made only after Ms. Polgar and Mr. Truong left the meeting to travel to a prior obligation.

4. Neither Ms. Polgar nor Mr. Truong were notified of the vote, or given a chance to participate in the decision. And they did not consent to any such vote before leaving the meeting.

5. The decision to create a legal subcommittee without notifying two Executive of Board members of the vote, or providing them the opportunity to participate was a violation of the USCF by-laws. Bylaws at 27(1)(b).

6. At some point, members the of subcommittee began to use their purported powers as a means to subvert the powers granted exclusively to the Executive Board to take make determinations and take actions, both ostensibly legitimate, as a pretext to harass, defame, and ultimately force Ms. Polgar and Mr. Truong from the Board. Among other things, these members proceeded to approve a series of acts purportedly on behalf of the USCF, without presenting those decisions to the Executive Board for a vote, in violation of the Bylaws.

Mr. Truong and Ms. Polgar confidentially provide private information to the subcommittee and Kronenberger; Kronenberger publishes the information to third parties in an effort to defame and harass Mr. Truong and Ms. Polgar

7. After formation of the subcommittee, Kronenberger asked Paul Truong, an Executive Board Member and the husband of Ms. Polgar, to provide evidence to the subcommittee that he was not involved in the impersonation of Sam Sloan on web discussion boards, the allegations of the Sloan lawsuit, most of which were posted from IP addresses in New York City.

8. In an effort to cooperate with the investigation, Mr. Truong provided confidential

1 and personal information of both Mr. Truong and Ms. Polgar to the subcommittee and 2 Kronenberger based on assurances that the information would be treated as confidential.

3 9. On information and belief, Kronenberger then provided some of those documents
4 to a third party, Brian Lafferty. Neither Mr. Truong nor Ms. Polgar ever authorized the 5 subcommittee or Kronenberger to publish this information to any third party.

6 10. Lafferty proceeded to provide this information to other USCF Delegates, the 7 district attorney's office in Queens, NY, as well as the U.S. Bankruptcy Court, Eastern District of 8 New York in an effort to persuade these entities that Mr. Truong's June 2007 Bankruptcy
9 proceeding was somehow fraudulent, and to pressure Ms. Polgar and Mr. Truong to resign from 10 the Executive Board.

11
12 Prior to June 25, 2008, Counter-Defendants, purporting to represent the USCF, authorized 13 Karl Kronenberger to file a lawsuit in San Francisco Superior Court.

14 11. Sometime prior to June 25, 2008, counter-defendants, purporting to represent the 15 USCF, authorized Mr. Kronenberger to file a lawsuit on behalf of the USCF related to the 16 alleged unlawful access to the email account of an Executive Board Member, and the alleged 17 impersonation of Sam Sloan, a former Executive Board Member, on web discussion boards.

18 12. Ms. Polgar was never provided an opportunity to vote on the issue of filing a 19 lawsuit, never notified of any such meeting where a vote would take place, and never provided, 20 despite repeated requests, of the meeting minutes, transcripts or recordings – a meeting which 21 did not occur – wherein the decision was made to file a lawsuit. Bylaws at Art. IV, section 3; 22 31(3)-(4); and 27(1)(b).

23 13. The decision to file a lawsuit was in express violation of the USCF by-laws, 24 which require notification of any Executive Board Meeting to all Board members, and a vote at 25 an officially noticed meeting for "approval of any action." Bylaws at Art. IV, section 3; See also 26 Art. VII, section 4.

1 Despite his intention, all along, to name Susan Polgar as a defendant, counter-defendants
 2 filed suit against doe defendants in an attempt to surreptitiously obtain private information
 3 before Polgar had an opportunity to retain counsel, or object to early discovery.

4 14. On June 25, 2008, plaintiffs filed the present lawsuit in San Francisco Superior
 5 Court which includes causes of action for fraud under CA Penal Code § 502(c) and (e), violation
 6 of the Computer Fraud and Abuse Act, among others. Plaintiffs filed the suit against doe
 7 defendants only despite their intent, all along, to amend the lawsuit to name Ms. Polgar as a
 8 defendant.

9 15. Counter-defendants' decision to file the suit against doe defendants only was a 10 pretextual attempt to obtain private and confidential documents related to Ms. Polgar's, and 11 numerous third parties, credit card and internet accounts without providing her the opportunity to 12 retain counsel or to object to early discovery.

13 16. On July 7, 2008, plaintiffs sought and received an ex parte order allowing them to 14 conduct early third-party discovery in a purported attempt to ascertain the proper defendants in 15 the matter.

16 17. On October 31, 2008 counter-defendants sought and received an ex parte order
 17 allowing them to issue immediate discovery on Comcast Cable in a purported attempt to obtain 18 the identify a certain Comcast account holder.

19 18. Pursuant to the above-mentioned orders to conduct early discovery, plaintiffs
 20 issued subpoenas to American Express and Comcast Cable, among others.

21 19. Additionally, in violation of well-established law, defendants did not timely notify 22 Ms. Polgar of the issuance of those subpoenas, and even when notified of the violation, refused
 23 to withdraw them. Finally, only by order of this Court, were defendants forced to withdraw 24 them.

1 Ms. Polgar's request to the Executive Board for indemnification is effectively denied after 2 Kronenberger, without providing any basis, or assertion that he represents the USCF for purposes of indemnification, directs that all requests go through him. Neither 3 Kronenberger nor a representative from the USCF has responded to Ms. Polgar's request.

4 20. On November 17, 2008, Ms. Polgar's counsel requested indemnification under Article IX, Section 12 of the by-laws through counter-defendant Bill Hall, USCF Executive 5 Director.

6 21. Without providing any basis, Kronenberger responded that all further 7 correspondence regarding indemnification go through him.

8 22. When asked for evidence that he had been retained as independent legal counsel
 9 to advise the USCF or provide a written opinion concerning the determination required under 10 Section 12 of the USCF's by-laws, Kronenberger provided no substantive response.

11 23. Additionally, neither Hall, as Executive Director, nor any other Executive Board 12 member has attempted to comply with the by-laws by conducting a vote of the Board of 13 Delegates, by conducting a vote of disinterested directors, or by appointing independent legal 14 counsel to offer a written opinion regarding Ms. Polgar's indemnification request. Bylaws at Art.
 15 IX, section 12.

17 CAUSES OF ACTION

18 FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION:

19 ABUSE OF PROCESS

(Against all Counter-Defendants)

20 24. Defendant and counter-plaintiff Susan Polgar incorporate by reference paragraphs 21 1-24.

22 25. At a November 4, 2007 Executive Board Meeting, counter-defendants authorized
 23 Kronenberger to create a legal subcommittee for purposes of investigating the Sloan allegations.
 24 However, the decision was made only after Ms. Polgar and Mr. Truong left the meeting to travel 25 to a prior obligation.

26 26. The decision to create a legal subcommittee without notifying two Executive of 27 Board members of the vote, or providing them the opportunity to participate was a violation of 28

1 the USCF by-laws.

2 27. At the request of Kronenberger Mr. Truong provided confidential and personal
3 information of both Mr. Truong and Ms. Polgar to the subcommittee and Kronenberger based on 4 assurances that the information would be treated as confidential. On information and belief,
5 Kronenberger then provided some of those documents to third parties.

6 28. The disclosure of private information to third parties was done with the intent to 7 defame, harass, and force the resignation of Ms. Polgar and Mr. Truong.

8 29. Sometime prior to June 25, 2008, counter-defendants, purporting to represent the 9 USCF, authorized Mr. Kronenberger to file a lawsuit on behalf of the USCF related to the 10 alleged unlawful access to the email account of an Executive Board Member, and the alleged 11 impersonation of Sam Sloan, a former Executive Board Member.

12 30. The decision to file a lawsuit which requires notification of any Executive Board
13 Meeting, and a vote at an officially noticed meeting for "approval of any action", was a violation
14 of the USCF by-laws,

15 31. On June 25, 2008, plaintiffs filed the present lawsuit in San Francisco Superior
16 Court which includes causes of action for fraud under CA Penal Code § 502(c) and (e), violation
17 of the Computer Fraud and Abuse Act, among others. Plaintiffs filed the suit against doe
18 defendants only despite their intent, all along, to amend the lawsuit to name Ms. Polgar as a
19 defendant. The suit against does was a pretextual attempt to obtain private and confidential 20 documents related to Ms. Polgar's credit card and internet accounts without providing her the 21 opportunity to retain counsel or to object.

22 32. Pursuant to the above-mentioned orders to conduct early discovery, plaintiffs
23 issued subpoenas to American Express and Comcast Cable, among others. In violation of CA
24 law defendants did not timely notify Ms. Polgar if the issuance of those subpoenas.

25 33. On November 17, 2008, Ms. Polgar's counsel requested indemnification under 26 Article IX, Section 12 of the by-laws through counter-defendant Bill Hall, USCF Executive 27 Director.

34. Without providing any basis, Kronenberger and other counter-defendants effectively denied Ms. Polgar's request by not substantively responding to the request and by not conducting a vote of the Board of Delegates, by conducting a vote of disinterested directors, or by appointing independent legal counsel to offer a written opinion, as required by the Bylaws.

35. Counter-defendants circumvention and misuse of established organizational procedure and the courts, all described above, were done with the intent to defame, harass, and ultimately force Ms. Polgar and her husband from the Executive Board.

36. Ms. Polgar suffered, and continues to suffer harm as a direct result of defendants' actions described above.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION:
BREACH OF FIDUCIARY DUTY
(Against Counter-Defendants Bill Goichberg, Bill Hall, Randy Bauer, Randall Hough)

37. Defendant and counter-plaintiff Susan Polgar incorporate by reference paragraphs 1-36.

38. At a November 4, 2007 Executive Board Meeting, counter-defendants authorized Kronenberger to create a legal subcommittee for purposes of investigating the Sloan allegations. However, the decision was made only after Ms. Polgar and Mr. Truong left the meeting to travel to a prior obligation.

39. The decision to create a legal subcommittee without notifying two Executive of Board members of the vote, or providing them the opportunity to participate was a violation of the USCF by-laws.

40. At the request of Kronenberger Mr. Truong provided confidential and personal information of both Mr. Truong and Ms. Polgar to the subcommittee and Kronenberger based on assurances that the information would be treated as confidential. On information and belief, Kronenberger then provided some of those documents to third parties.

41. The disclosure of private information to third parties was done with the intent to defame, harass, and force the resignation of Ms. Polgar and Mr. Truong.

42. Sometime prior to June 25, 2008, counter-defendants, purporting to represent the USCF, authorized Mr. Kronenberger to file a lawsuit on behalf of the USCF related to the alleged unlawful access to the email account of an Executive Board Member, and the alleged impersonation of Sam Sloan, a former Executive Board Member.

43. The decision to file a lawsuit which requires notification of any Executive Board Meeting, and a vote at an officially noticed meeting for "approval of any action", was a violation of the USCF by-laws,

44. On November 17, 2008, Ms. Polgar's counsel requested indemnification under Article IX, Section 12 of the by-laws through counter-defendant Bill Hall, USCF Executive Director.

45. Without providing any basis, Kronenberger and other counter-defendants effectively denied Ms. Polgar's request by not substantively responding to the request and by not conducting a vote of the Board of Delegates, by conducting a vote of disinterested directors, or by appointing independent legal counsel to offer a written opinion, as required by the Bylaws.

46. Counter-defendants circumvention and misuse of established organizational procedure and the courts, all described above, were done with the intent to defame, harass, and ultimately force Ms. Polgar and her husband from the Executive Board.

47. Ms. Polgar, as well all members of the USCF, are shareholders in the corporation in the USCF.

48. As members of the Executive Board Counter-Defendants owed a fiduciary to Ms. Polgar and the members of the USCF.

49. A fiduciary has the duty to act with the utmost good faith and loyalty in managing the corporation and in the best interests of the corporation.

50. Counter-Defendants acted on behalf of the USCF when they engaged in the above-described conduct.

51. Counter-Defendants actions were not in good faith or in the best in interests of the corporation.

1 52. Ms. Polgar suffered, and continues to suffer harm as a direct result of defendants'
2 actions described above.

4 PRAYER FOR RELIEF

5 53. Wherefore, counter-plaintiff Susan Polgar respectfully requests that this Court
6 grant the following relief:

7 54. Compensatory, general and special damages, in an amount to be determined at 8 trial against all counter-defendants.

9 55. Punitive damages against all counter-defendants in an amount sufficient to deter
10 and make an example of defendants and in an amount to be determined at trial.

11 56. Attorneys' fees and costs according to statute.

12 57. Prejudgment interest at the maximum legal rate.

13 58. Such other relief as the court deems just and proper.

15 DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

16 Under Rule 38(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and Civil Local Rules 3-6 of 17 the United States District Court for the Northern District of California, Susan Polgar hereby 18 demands a trial by jury of all issues properly triable by jury.

Case No. 3:08-CV-05126-MHP

DECLARATION OF BILL HALL RE:
 A) COMPREHENSIVE
RATIFICATION BY USCF BOARD OF DELEGATES OF ALL ACTS OF USCF EXECUTIVE BOARD, B)
EXPULSION OF SUSAN POLGAR
 FROM THE U.S. CHESS FEDERATION, AND C) DENIAL OF
 POLGAR'S INDEMNIFICATION
 REQUESTS, IN RESPONSE TO CIVIL MINUTE ORDER DATED
 APRIL 13, 2009

1 I, Bill Hall, declare as follows:

2 1. I serve as the Executive Director of the United States of America Chess
3 Federation, Inc. ("USCF"), a party to this action. I also serve as the corporate secretary
4 for the USCF. Unless otherwise stated, I have personal knowledge of the facts stated
5 herein.

6 2. On April 13, 2009, the Court ordered the USCF "to produce evidence re
7 votes/authorizations/minutes/bylaws by 4/27/2009". On April 27, 2009, the USCF
8 provided the Court with documents reflecting the authorizations and later ratifications of 9 the USCF Executive Board relating to the case at hand. Thereafter, the USCF Board of 10 Delegates held its annual meeting and voted on ratification on the exact matters the 11 Court requested in its initial minute order. This declaration summarizes such new 12 evidence, with attachments.

13 3. Pursuant to USCF Bylaws Article V, the USCF is governed by the Board of 14 Delegates, which is composed of the Executive Board members, the Delegates at 15 Large, and 125 Delegates. Pursuant to USCF Bylaws Article VI, Section 2, the seven-16 person Executive Board manages USCF's affairs between meetings of the Board of 17 Delegates. The Board of Delegates meets annually for the purposes of, among other 18 things, ratifying the acts of the USCF Executive Board made between meetings of the 19 Board of Delegates.

20 4. On August 8-9, 2009, the Board of Delegates held its annual meeting in 21 Indianapolis, Indiana. At the meeting, the Executive Board informed the Board of 22 Delegates about a) multiple Executive Board ratification resolutions made over the past 23 year, b) the allegations by Polgar that that Executive Board members and their counsel 24 had acted in an Ultra Vires manner, c) the allegations by Polgar that Executive Board 25 members were "interested parties" and thus should not manage litigation involving 26 Polgar, d) the allegations by Polgar that conflicts of interest of USCF's counsel had not 27 been properly disclosed and waived, and e) a significant amount of other background
28 information about the litigation involving the USCF and Polgar pending in multiple states.

Attached at Exhibit A is an Executive Board ratification motion dated August 6, 2009 which were provided to the Board of Delegates. Also provided to the Board of Delegates was an Executive Board motion dated April 18, 2009 [D.E. 97-2, Ex. D]. Attached to the August 6, 2009 ratification in Exhibit A are pleadings and briefing distributed to the delegates, which included, from the case at hand, Polgar's Motion for Summary Judgment [D.E. 121-1], Polgar's Reply in Support of her Motion for Summary Judgment [D.E. 151], Polgar's Motion to Disqualify Karl Kronenberger and Kronenberger Burgoyne, LLP [D.E. 112], Polgar's Answer and Counterclaims [D.E. 114]; from the case of Polgar v. United States of America Chess Federation Inc et al., 5:08-cv-00169-C (District Court for the Northern District of Texas), Polgar's First Amended Complaint [D.E. 91]; from the case of United States Chess Federation, Inc. v. Susan Polgar and Paul Truong, 2008MR000751 (Circuit Court for the Seventh Judicial Circuit, Sangamon County, Illinois), Polgar's and Truong's Motion to Dismiss Complaint.

5. On August 8, 2009, the Board of Delegates fully ratified all of the prior acts of Executive Board, which included all prior acts embodied in Executive Board ratification resolutions and minutes, with a vote of approximately 90% voting to ratify. After this ratification, a USCF delegate made a motion to reconsider the ratification, to ensure that all delegates had had time to fully review all of the materials involving the litigation between Polgar and the USCF, which included, among many other documents, Polgar's Motions, Polgar's First Amended Complaint in the Texas action, and Polgar's motion to dismiss the complaint in the Illinois action.¹ Later that day, the Board of Delegates unanimously ratified all prior acts of the Executive Board, with one delegate abstaining. At the meeting, over 80 delegates were seated, and 48 were needed for a quorum.

¹ The Texas action is entitled, Polgar v. United States of America Chess Federation Inc et al., 5:08-cv-00169-C (District Court for the Northern District of Texas), and the Illinois action is entitled, United States Chess Federation, Inc. v. Susan Polgar and Paul Truong, 2008MR000751 (Circuit Court for the Seventh Judicial Circuit, Sangamon County, Illinois)(this case was removed and thereafter remanded to state court).

1 6. On July 6, 2009, the Executive Board passed two resolutions entitled 2 Resolution Directing Notification of Possible Membership Suspension or Revocation of 3 Susan Polgar and Paul Truong, respectively, and served these resolutions on Polgar
4 and Truong the next day. Attached to each resolution were charges and specifications
5 detailing the basis for each suspension / revocation hearing. On August 7, 2009, the 6 USCF held a hearing regarding possible suspension or revocation of Polgar and 7 Truong's membership, which was attended by Polgar, Truong, and their counsel,
8 Whitney Leigh. After hours of argument and deliberation, the Executive Board voted to 9 revoke the membership of Polgar and Truong, and the Executive Board provided a 10 report to the Board of Delegates of this hearing and vote. Attached as Exhibit B is the 11 report to the Executive Board to the Board of Delegates regarding this hearing.

12 7. On August 8, 2009, Polgar and Truong had the opportunity to appeal the 13 revocation of their membership to the full Board of Delegates. In this closed-session 14 appeal, Polgar, Truong and their attorney were given one hour and 15 minutes to 15 present their case. After deliberation, the Board of Delegates denied the appeals of 16 Polgar (55 votes in favor of denying the appeal, 21 votes in favor of granting the appeal, 17 with 5 abstentions) and Truong (58 votes in favor of denying the appeal, 18 votes in 18 favor of granting the appeal, with 5 abstentions). This denial of Polgar's and Truong's
19 appeals affirmed the revocation of their USCF memberships and all rights and privileges
20 associated with membership, including their ability to sit on the Executive Board.
21 Accordingly, the expulsion of Polgar and Truong from the USCF removed Polgar and 22 Truong from the Executive Board.

23 8. The USCF plans to hold a special election in January 2010 in order to elect
24 two new members to the Executive Board.

25 9. Polgar has made requests of the USCF for indemnification on November 26 19, 2008 and December 2, 2008, related to the case at hand. On August 8, 2009, the 27 Board of Delegates unanimously denied Polgar's requests for indemnification.

28 10. The USCF held three days of committee meetings leading up to the

1 delegates meeting on August 8-9, 2009. As part of these meetings, the USCF held a
2 three-hour "Legal Issues Workshop" on August 6, 2009 to discuss in detail various legal 3 issues. This workshop was well attended by USCF delegates, and the topic of the 4 Polgar litigation dominated the discussion. For unknown reasons, Polgar and Truong
5 did not attend this important workshop, which was attended by all other Executive Board
6 members. Delegates had the opportunity to question, and did indeed question, the 7 Executive Board about details of the Polgar litigation. Further, before any vote on 8 ratification, starting on August 6, 2009, the USCF distributed to the delegates actual 9 copies of Polgar's pleadings and briefing (as detailed above in paragraph 4), wherein 10 she made her arguments about Ultra Vires acts, self-interested Executive Board
11 members, among many other Polgar accusations.

12
13 I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States of America
14 that the foregoing is true and correct and that this Declaration was executed on August 15 14, 2009, in Crossville, Tennessee.

23 SUPPORT OF ANTI-SLAPP MOTION

1 I, Bill Hall, declare as follows:

2 1. I serve as the Executive Director of the United States of America Chess
3 Federation, Inc. ("USCF"), a party to this action. I also serve as the corporate secretary
4 for the USCF. Unless otherwise stated, I have personal knowledge of the facts stated

6 2. Randall Hough did not run for reelection to the Executive Board, and 7 accordingly his term ended on August 9, 2009. The Board of Delegates ratified all 8 conduct by the Executive Board during Randall Hough's tenure.

9 3. The allegation in Polgar's counterclaims that, "[Counter-Defendants] filed
10 the suit against doe defendants only despite their intent, all along, to amend the lawsuit 11 to name Ms. Polgar as a defendant," is false. Neither I, nor the USCF, nor any of the 12 counter-defendants or third party defendants, had any intent to name Polgar at the time 13 this lawsuit was filed. After the USCF conducted discovery, which was obviously after 14 the filing of the lawsuit, the USCF discovered that Gregory Alexander was responsible 15 for gaining unauthorized access to Randall Hough's email account. This was new 16 information that was gained after the filing of the doe lawsuit.

17 4. Neither the USCF, nor any of the counter-defendants or third party
18 defendants in this action, ever actually obtained information from American Express
19 pursuant to subpoenas issued in this case. There was a subpoena issued to American 20 Express in the Texas litigation by the USCF, to which American Express has responded.

Exhibit “D”

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA CHESS
FEDERATION, INC., and RANDALL D.
HOUGH,

No. C 08-05126 MHP

Plaintiffs,

AMENDED MEMORANDUM & ORDER¹

v.

Re: Defendant Polgar's Motion for Leave to Amend Answer and Assert Counterclaim

SUSAN POLGAR and GREGORY
ALEXANDER,

Defendants.

The United States of America Chess Federation, Inc. ("USCF") and Randall D. Hough brought this action against Susan Polgar and Gregory Alexander, advancing claims related to alleged incidents of unauthorized entry into Hough's electronic mail account. Now before the court is defendant Polgar's motion for leave to amend her answer and assert counterclaims against plaintiff Hough and several other individuals. Having considered the arguments and submissions of the parties, and for the reasons set forth below, the court enters the following memorandum and order.

BACKGROUND

Plaintiffs filed their complaint in the Superior Court for the State of California, County of San Francisco, on October 24, 2008. Defendants removed the case to this court on November 10, 2008. Defendant Polgar filed her answer, which contained eight affirmative defenses and no counterclaims, on December 1, 2008. Docket No. 13. On January 19, 2009, Polgar moved to amend

1 her answer to add an affirmative defense of ultra vires act and a counterclaim for abuse of process.
2 Plaintiffs opposed the motion, and Polgar, in her reply brief, requested leave to add a second
3 counterclaim, for breach of fiduciary duty. The abuse of process counterclaim is directed at Karl S.
4 Kronenberger, who is counsel of record for the USCF in this case, and five USCF executive board
5 members: Bill Goichberg, Bill Hall, Randy Bauer, Jim Berry and plaintiff Randy Hough. The 6 breach of fiduciary duty counterclaim is directed at Goichberg, Hall, Bauer and Hough. Polgar
7 argues that she can and must counterclaim against individual board members rather than the USCF
8 because these board members do not have the authority to bring suit on behalf of the USCF, having 9 purportedly acted beyond the scope of their authority as provided by the USCF's bylaws.

10
11 LEGAL STANDARD

12 I. Leave to Amend

13 The court should freely give leave to amend pleadings when justice so requires. Fed. R. Civ.
14 P. 15(a)(2). This policy is "to be applied with extreme liberality." Eminence Capital LLC v.
15 Aspeon, Inc., 316 F.3d 1048, 1051 (9th Cir. 2003) (citation omitted). The Ninth Circuit has stressed 16 that, in considering motions to amend, district courts must bear in mind the underlying purpose of 17 Rule 15, which is to "facilitate decisions on the merits, rather than on the pleadings or 18 technicalities." Nunes v. Ashcroft, 375 F.3d 805, 808 (9th Cir. 2004) (citation omitted).
19 Nevertheless, a district court does not abuse its discretion in denying a motion to amend when the 20 movant has presented no new facts and provided no satisfactory explanation for her failure to 21 develop her contentions in her original pleading. Id. (citation omitted). In assessing the propriety
22 of a motion for leave to amend, the court considers five factors: (1) bad faith; (2) undue delay;
23 (3) prejudice to the opposing party; (4) futility of amendment; and (5) whether the plaintiff has 24 previously amended her pleading. Futility alone can justify the denial of a motion for leave to 25 amend. See id., citing Bonin v. Calderon, 59 F.3d 815, 845 (9th Cir. 1995).

1 II. Counterclaims

2 “The court may permit a party to amend a pleading to add a counterclaim if it was omitted
3 through oversight, inadvertence, or excusable neglect or if justice so requires.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 13(f).
4 A counterclaim is not compulsory unless, among other things, it “arises out of the same transaction
5 or occurrence that is the subject matter of the opposing party’s claim.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 13(a). The 6 same factors that are used to assess the propriety of granting leave to amend a pleading generally
7 also apply to amendments to pleadings that assert counterclaims. See Nunes, 375 F.3d at 808. As is 8 true in relation to any claim, the court must also have subject matter jurisdiction over the 9 counterclaim. “Federal courts are courts of limited jurisdiction. The character of the controversies
10 over which federal judicial authority may extend are delineated in Art. III, § 2, cl. 1 [of the United 11 States Constitution]. Jurisdiction of the lower federal courts is further limited to those subjects
12 encompassed within a statutory grant of jurisdiction.” Williams v. United Airlines, Inc., 500 F.3d
13 1019 (9th Cir. 2007), quoting Ins. Corp. of Ireland Ltd. v. Compagnie des Bauxites de Guinee, 456
14 U.S. 649, 701 (1982).

15
16 DISCUSSION17 I. Affirmative Defense

18 Defendant Polgar has given no specific reason why she was unaware at the time of her initial 19 answer of the factual basis for an abuse of process claim. However, she has filed her motion at a 20 very early stage in the proceedings, before issuance of a scheduling order or start of discovery.
21 Plaintiffs cannot claim that they are unfairly prejudiced by amendment at this time. This is also the 22 first request to amend filed by Polgar. Finally, the court cannot say that amending the answer to 23 include the ultra vires act affirmative defense would be futile. Polgar’s answer alleges in detail how 24 the USCF bylaws operate to restrict the executive board’s authority, and plaintiffs do not materially 25 dispute Polgar’s characterization of those bylaws’ effect. In light of the “extreme liberality” with 26 which the Ninth Circuit has instructed district courts to view requests to amend pleadings, see

1 Eminence Capital, 316 F.3d at 1051, granting the motion to amend the answer to include the 2 affirmative defense is warranted.

4 II. Counterclaims

5 A. Supplemental Jurisdiction

6 In addition to amending her answer defendant Polgar seeks to add two counterclaims, one for 7 abuse of process and another for breach of fiduciary duty, added at the time of filing her reply. She 8 asserts these claims against one named plaintiff in this action and against a number of third parties
9 who are USCF executive board members and their attorney. These claims are alleged under 10 California state law and asserted under this court's supplemental jurisdiction. The complaint in this 11 action is premised on three federal statutory provisions. Whether this court may exercise jurisdiction
12 over the counterclaims is governed by section 1367 of Title 28.

13 Prior to the enactment of section 1367 in 1990, a substantial body of case law had evolved
14 regarding pendent claim and pendent party jurisdiction which the Supreme Court described as 15 "subtle and complex." Moor v. County of Alameda, 411 U.S. 693, 715 (1973). Section 1367
16 changed all of that by providing what had been lacking, a statutory grant of pendent or, thanks to 17 section 1367, what is now known as supplemental jurisdiction. Section 1367 (a) provides as 18 follows:

19 ...in any civil action of which the district courts have original jurisdiction, the district 20 courts shall have supplemental jurisdiction over all other claims that are so related to 21 claims in the action within such original jurisdiction that they form part of the same 22 case or controversy under Article III of the United States Constitution. Such supplemental jurisdiction shall include claims that involve joinder or intervention of additional parties. (Emphasis added)

23 The critical inquiry is whether "the federal and state law claims 'derive from a 24 common nucleus of operative fact' and comprise 'but one constitutional case.'" Raygor v. Regents
25 of the University of Minnesota, 534 U.S. 533, 539 (2002) (quoting United Mine Workers of America
26 v. Gibbs, 383 U.S. 715, 725 (1966)). This Circuit has stated that the constitutional standard 27 articulated in Gibbs is the only limitation on supplemental jurisdiction under section 1367 in non-
28

1 diversity cases, subsection (b) providing some limits on cases brought under the court's diversity
2 jurisdiction. Mendoza v. Zirkle Fruit Co., 301 F.3d 1163, 1173-75 (9th Cir. 2002). Thus, the 3 question is whether the proposed counterclaims "share significant factual elements" such that they
4 are part of the same case or controversy. See, e.g., HB Gen'l Corp. v. Manchester Partners, L.P., 95
5 F.3d 1185, 1198 (3d Cir. 1996) (cited with approval in Mendoza, 201 F.3d at 1174).

6 The counterclaims asserted here involve, at least in part, activities that occurred after those 7 alleged in plaintiff's complaint. The abuse of process claims allege actions that were taken in 8 initiating this very action. The allegations in both the abuse of process and breach of fiduciary duty
9 claims describe a continuing stream of activities among various board members and others involved
10 in USCF. They involve many of the "same facts, occurrences, witnesses and evidence: as are 11 involved in the original complaint. See, e.g., Palmer v. Hosp. Auth., 22 F.3d 1559, 1567 (11th Cir.
12 1994). Even a "loose factual connection between the claims is generally sufficient." Ammerman v.
13 Sween, 54 F.3d 423, 424 (7th Cir. 1995) (citing 13B Charles A. Wright, Arthur R. Miller & Edward 14 H. Cooper, Federal Practice and Procedure, §3567.1, at 117 (2d ed. 1984)).

15 Defendant's counterclaims name as counter-defendants not only one of the plaintiffs in the 16 original action, but a number of third parties who may or may not be diverse since there are no
17 citizenship allegations made with respect to them. Prior to the adoption of section 1367 these were 18 referred to as pendent parties and treated more strictly than pendent claims since there was not an 19 independent basis to assert jurisdiction over persons not already parties to the original action.
20 Again, in Mendoza v. Zirkle this Circuit found that its earlier holding proscribing pendent party
21 jurisdiction "does not survive the 1990 passage of §1367." 301 F.3d at 1173. The Mendoza court
22 noted that in Ayala v. United States, 550 F.2d 1196 (9th Cir. 1977), "we held that federal courts 23 were without power to exercise pendent party jurisdiction." Id. The Circuit then pointed to the 24 Supreme Court's 2002 decision in Raygor v. Regents as "putting to rest" the restriction on pendent
25 party jurisdiction, id., instructing that if the district court finds the counterclaims meet the Gibbs
26 standard the court has the power to exercise supplemental jurisdiction under section 1367.

1 Other circuits agree, finding that section 1367 applies even to claims asserted by or against
2 additional parties such as a “defendant’s counterclaims against non-diverse parties joined as third-
3 party defendants to the counterclaims.” HB Gen’l Corp., 95 F.3d at 1197-98; see also Hinson v.
4 Norwest Financial S.C., Inc., 239 F.3d 611, 615 (4th Cir. 2001); Ammerman v. Sween, 54 F.3d at 5 424; Palmer v. Hosp. Auth., 22 F.3d at 1566-67. The only limitation is where jurisdiction over the 6 original claim is based on diversity and additional claims are brought by the plaintiffs in the original
7 complaint, not defendants asserting counter-claims or third-party claims.

8 Thus, the only question is whether the counter-claims or third-party claims form part of the 9 same case or controversy. If so, the court has the power to exercise jurisdiction but may decline to 10 exercise that jurisdiction “in the interest of judicial economy, convenience, fairness, and comity.”
11 Mendoza v. Zirkle, 301 F.3d at 1174. As explained above, given the nature of defendant Polgar’s 12 claims and their relationship to the claims of the original complaint in this action, the court finds that 13 it has the power to assert supplemental jurisdiction over the counter-claims and third-party claims
14 and should use its discretion in favor of jurisdiction. The facts, parties, witnesses and discovery will 15 be of a piece with the original complaint. The activities are a continuum with those alleged in the 16 original complaint. The duplication of litigation will be avoided and greater fairness achieved with 17 the entire dispute among the parties in one forum. Comity is not jeopardized since none of the 18 supplemental parties have a right to expect a state court to adjudicate these disputes and the State of 19 California has no particular interest in the ongoing dispute.

20 This does not end the matter, however, with respect to defendant Polgar’s motion to amend.
21 While the motion to amend the answer is granted and the court has satisfied itself that it has 22 jurisdiction to and should entertain the counterclaims, the court must review the proposed 23 counterclaims under Rule 15(a) standards.

24
25 B. Abuse of Process

26 Defendant Polgar alleges that the USCF executive board members and their attorney abused
27 the judicial process by, among other things, falsely representing to the Superior Court that they did 28

1 not know whom to name as defendants in the instant suit. This alleged misrepresentation, according
2 to Polgar, allowed plaintiffs to obtain a subpoena from the court and thereby gain access to Polgar's
3 private records, which Polgar maintains was plaintiffs' actual aim.

4 Abuse of process is a common law cause of action. A claimant must establish that a
5 defendant "misused the machinery of the legal system for an ulterior motive." Competitive
6 Technologies v. Fujitsu Ltd., 286 F. Supp. 2d 1118, 1155 (N.D. Cal. 2003) (Spero, Mag. J.) (internal 7 quotation marks omitted), citing ComputerXpress, Inc. v. Jackson, 93 Cal. App. 4th 993, 1014
8 (2001). To succeed in an action for abuse of process, a litigant must establish that the defendant 9 (1) contemplated an ulterior motive in using the judicial process, and (2) committed a willful act in 10 the use of that process not proper in the regular conduct of the proceedings. Estate of Tucker ex rel.
11 Tucker v. Interscope Records, Inc., 515 F.3d 1019, 1037 (9th Cir. 2008), quoting Oren Royal Oaks
12 Venture v. Greenberg, Bernhard, Weiss & Karma, Inc., 42 Cal.3d 1157, 1168 (1986).

13 Polgar's allegations suffice to state an abuse of process claim; however, they state much 14 more. They include "immaterial" and "impertinent" allegations having nothing to do with the actual 15 abuse of process claim. Pursuant to Federal Civil Procedure Rule 12(f) the court may, and does, on 16 its own motion strike such allegations. Therefore, references to defendant Polgar's self-proclaimed 17 reputation, and allegations about the conduct of the counter-defendants and third parties having 18 nothing to do with the actual abuse of process claim, are stricken.

19
20 C. Breach of Fiduciary Duty

21 Defendant Polgar attempts to add a breach of fiduciary duty claim by way of her reply
22 memorandum. This claim suffers from some of the same problems as the abuse of process claim.
23 Thus, allegations unrelated to the breach of fiduciary duty claim are stricken pursuant to Rule 12(f)
24 However, this claim suffers more fundamental flaws. Nowhere in the claim does defendant
25 spell out what duty is owed to her and in what capacity that duty arises. The court notes that it is 26 doubtful plaintiff could allege a fiduciary duty that is owed by any of the counter-defendants or third
27 party defendants. Normally, officers and directors of a corporation owe a duty to the corporation
28

1 itself, rather than to individual shareholders, members or other directors.² Nonetheless, the court
2 will allow defendant Polgar to amend this counterclaim, if she can do so, to make the necessary duty
3 and breach allegations now absent.

5 CONCLUSION

6 Defendant Polgar's motion to amend her answer to add an affirmative defense of ultra vires
7 is GRANTED. Defendant Polgar's motion to amend her answer to add two counterclaims is 8 GRANTED with respect to the abuse of process claim and DENIED with leave to amend as to the 9 breach of fiduciary duty claim. The court further strikes "immaterial" and "impertinent" language
10 from the abuse of process claim and the breach of fiduciary duty claim.

11 The court will allow plaintiff to amend her counterclaims to clean up the pleadings in 12 accordance with the preceding order striking allegations under Rule 12(f) and to allege a basis for 13 her breach of fiduciary duty claim. Plaintiff shall file her amended counterclaim(s) within thirty (30) 14 days of the date of this order and counter-defendants and third-party defendants shall file their 15 answers within thirty (30) days thereafter.

ENDNOTES

1. An earlier version of this memorandum and order was entered on April 13, 2009. Docket No. 89. This amended memorandum and order merely makes minor corrections to the document's format and punctuation. It makes no substantive changes.

2. The California cases that have found a breach of a fiduciary duty to an individual shareholder have typically involved allegations of majority shareholder self-dealing that diminishes the value of minority shareholders' shares. See, e.g., Jones v. H. F. Ahmanson & Co., 1 Cal.3d 93 (1969). This is not such a case.
